I. HOW DOES ONLINE INFIDELITY AFFECT RELATIONSHIPS?

Online cheating hurts relationships a lot and often makes them worse. It breaks down the basis of trust, which makes people feel betrayed and upset. Online infidelity causes a big break in the emotional link between partners because it is done secretly and by lying. The effect on the victim's emotions can be terrible, causing them to lose their self-worth and self-esteem.

As mental distance and withdrawal become more common, communication breaks down. It gets harder to show feelings and be vulnerable, which makes it harder for partners to connect. Online infidelity also hurts the trust that is the foundation of a good relationship. It could lead to feelings of insecurity, jealousy, and changes in how power is shared.

The effects go beyond the emotional world and can cause physical and emotional distance between partners, making it harder for them to be close and connect. It's vital to deal with the
