

Oncology-Cancer Drugs Market

Oncology-Cancer Drugs Market

Cancer is the third most lethal disease in the world after cardiovascular, parasitic and infectious diseases. Chemoprevention is defined as pharmacological intervention with synthetic or naturally occurring compounds that may inhibit or prevent carcinogenesis. Cancer treatment involves surgery, radiation and drugs. The surgery is the first line of therapy that is used for early stage of cancer.

<https://www.alliedmarketresearch.com/oncology-cancer-drugs-market>

Read More