

Most Amazing Houses You Won't Believe Actually Exist!aa

Everyone needs some form of shelter, but not everyone is happy with urban or even suburban lifestyles. Some prefer to live as far away from other people as possible.

In the most extreme cases, that means going where no dwellers have gone before.

Chris Weller contributed to a previous version of this article.

Near the Serbian town of Bajina Basta, a house has stood on top of a rock in the middle of the River Drina for 50 years.

The house teeters on a rock. Marko Djurica/Reuters

The house, which was built in 1968, has been destroyed multiple times by rising waters, but it has always been rebuilt.

An island known as “Just Room Enough Island” is one of the famous Thousand Islands that straddle the US-Canada border in the Saint Lawrence River.

