

The Appearance of Cross-Shaped and Angel-Shaped Light Trails in the American Sky.aa

On January 13, 2016, two bright shapes resembling a crucifix and an angel appeared in the skies over Michigan and Hawaii, respectively, causing a sense of mystery among local residents. This phenomenon quickly spread across social media.

According to foreign media reports, 46-year-old Mechaele Loraffe from Buchanan, Michigan, stated that while she was driving early in the morning, she saw a bright yellow column in the sky. She stopped her car and took a picture of the bright shape. After taking the picture, she noticed that the yellow clouds beside it had combined with the column to form a giant crucifix.

Loraffe sent the photo to a local television station and shared it with a meteorologist. The image of the crucifix quickly spread across social media. Loraffe said, "Besides being scared, I don't know what to say!"

