

After 11 hours, she successfully rescued her horse from the high tides

The young mother's bravery and dedication saved her beloved horse from being trapped in mud.

A ride on the beach turned into a nightmare for this mother-daughter duo and their two horses. Nicole Graham was riding 17-year-old Astro, while her daughter Paris was riding a younger horse, when the massive animals got stuck in mud. Despite the woman's efforts to save her daughter and her horse.

Astro was struggling to find his way out and his desperate efforts to free himself only sank him even more. So his owner called to him trying to calm him down until, while the younger daughter Paris was seeking for help.

