Featuring top electronic music talents like RIVO, Innellea, Basswell, James Hype, and Alison Wonderland, each DJ brings a unique style and an electrifying set to Singapore's premier club.

Starting on 15 November, French DJ and producer RIVO will take the stage. Known for his energetic beats and powerful drops, the 22-year-old prodigy has built a name for himself in the electronic scene with remixes like Born Alone Die Alone by Madalen Duke, featured on Netflix's The Old Guard. His debut promises a high-energy experience to kick off the month.

Following RIVO on 23 November is Innellea, a German DJ celebrated for his techno-meets-melodic soundscapes. With hits like Vigilans and The World Returns, Innellea's abstract yet captivating sound will transport fans into a dreamlike musical journey. His widely praised performances feature tracks from renowned labels such as Afterlife and Innervisions.

Ending November with a bang, Basswell will headline on 29 November. Known for his dark, industrial rhythms reminiscent of the 90s rave era, Basswell delivers an intense techno experience with tracks like Bass Down Low and Around. With support from techno giants like Amelie Lens, his hard-hitting beats are sure to energize the crowd.

December opens with a high-energy set from UK DJ James Hype on 6 December. With chart-toppers like More Than Friends and Ferrari, James has over 10 million Spotify listeners and a reputation for electrifying crowds at venues like Ushuaïa Ibiza and festivals like Tomorrowland. His unique style promises an unforgettable night.

Closing the lineup on 14 December, Alison Wonderland brings her genre-defying sound and deeply emotional lyrics to Zouk. Known for her chart-topping album Run and her latest release Loner, Alison's music explores themes of resilience and self-discovery. Her set will be a powerful finale to the year, blending her talent as a cellist, producer, and mental health advocate.
