What is Interview as a Service?

Interview as a service is the next generation interview platform and uses cutting-edge technology to streamline the interviewing process. In simple words, it enables a corporation to outsource its interviewing to long-term, knowledgeable professionals in the relevant field. These professionals are fully aware of how to conduct interviews and evaluate candidates' skills more efficiently. They won't allow you to compromise on the talent's quality, which would otherwise result in a significant loss of production and time.

In order to create a top-notch staff, businesses prefer working with an established interview outsourcing provider like Incruiter. Incruiter's InCServe is an interview as a service provider that has over 3000 freelance interviewers who conduct interviews. Interview as a service is the future and has soon become a necessity for organizations.
